

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF MISSISSIPPI
NORTHERN DIVISION

USAA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Plaintiff,

v.

COURTNEY MCCABE and DEBORAH TIEDEMANN,

Defendants,

and

CAUSE No. 3:23-CV-393-CWR-LGI

DEBORAH TIEDEMANN,

Cross-Claimant,

v.

COURTNEY MCCABE,

Cross-Defendant.

ORDER

Before the Court is co-Defendant Courtney McCabe's Motion to Dismiss co-Defendant Deborah Tiedemann's Crossclaim for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. Docket No. 20. McCabe argues that if Tiedemann is domiciled in a foreign country, this "Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction over both USAA Insurance's Complaint and Ms. Tiedemann's Crossclaim." Id. at 1.

In an Order issued yesterday, the Court found that Tiedemann is domiciled in the State of Florida, thus complete diversity exists between the parties. See Docket No. 30 at 6-7.

That finding means this Court may exercise jurisdiction over both USAA Insurance's Complaint and Tiedemann's Crossclaim.

For the reasons stated in yesterday's Order, McCabe's Motion to Dismiss the Crossclaim for lack of subject matter jurisdiction is DENIED. The parties should contact the Magistrate Judge within seven days of the issuance of this Order to schedule a Case Management Conference.

SO ORDERED, this the 22nd day of March, 2024.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE
